

Everything we want to achieve for children in school comes down to their behaviour: safety, wellbeing, learning, creativity, mental health....if the behaviour isn't right, all of these things suffer. No child flourishes in chaos.

What do the best teachers in the world do to make sure classrooms are safe, calm and dignified places where children succeed and grow? Professor Tom Bennett OBE is the School behaviour Advisor to the UK government, the author of multiple best-selling books on classroom behaviour, and has worked with over 1300 schools in 15 countries. More importantly, he ran challenging classrooms for 14 years. In that time he has studied what the best teachers in the world do, and how they learned to do it.

In this unique face-to-face training day, attendees will also be able to learn about the most effective processes that teachers (or any adult) can use to build relationships, routines, boundaries and good behaviour that enable all children to blossom, as learners AND human beings. Rooted in both practice and research, exploring these techniques will help attendees to improve their own practice and build upon the good they already do.
